B3C Fuel Solutions, LLC, a manufacturer of environmentally friendly products and solutions for ethanol and bio-fuel related problems, has announced that HSI, a division of Hydraulic Source, Inc., is the exclusive distributor of B3C's core line of fuel solution products in Canada.

This Canadian relationship complements B3C's recent international expansion into Australia and continues B3C's growing international presence. Hydraulic Source, Inc. is a full service warehouse and sales/marketing office dedicated to the promotion of foreign manufacturers in Canada. See www.thesourceinc.com for more information.

HSI will operate as the exclusive Canadian distributor of B3C Fuel Solution's core suite of products, including its core brands Mechanic In A Bottle, Ethanol Shield and Diesel Mechanic In A Bottle. As the exclusive Canadian distributor, HSI will work with Canadian Outdoor Power Equipment Dealers, Automotive, Commercial, Industrial and Heavy Duty accounts. B3C and HSI will educate consumers about the problems with today's modern fuels, repair equipment in service shops and sell retail products to consumers.
