RIVERSIDE, Calif. – After 63 years in the same location, IRROMETER Co., Inc. has moved its operating facilities to an industrial complex located at 1425 Palmyrita Ave. in Riverside, California.

The move will serve the company's goals for future expansion and new product development for years to come. IRROMETER is excited that the new building has ample room for customer training and product demonstration, where live product data will be available for online observation.

Founded in 1951, the IRROMETER Company has been a leader in the manufacture of soil moisture measuring and monitoring equipment, with a worldwide distribution network.
