PITTSBURGH, Pa. – Dallas-based JBa Land Management has joined the LandOpt Contractor Network, acquiring exclusive LandOptlicense rights in the northern Dallas market space.

Founded in 1992 by owner John Battle, JBa primarily services commercial accounts (municipal and industrial) as a full-service grounds maintenance provider. When he entered the green industry, he brought with him strong business acumen from his time as a financial services industry executive. That, combined with an unyielding desire to succeed, has led to his success and recognition within the Dallas business community as an entrepreneur and minority business owner.

JBa Land Management joins Arlington-based Baldi Gardens as LandOpt Network representatives in the Lone Star State. According to LandOpt CEO & President Tim Smith, Texas presents tremendous potential as the Network grows. Texas is a state that is thriving economically and boasts many successful landscape contractors as a testament to that fact. We look forward to continuing our growth in and around Dallas, as well as within the state's other major metropolitan regions," he noted.
