Land Care, Inc., headquartered in North Las Vegas, has been verified as a Service Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Business (SDVOSB).

In order to qualify for SDVOSB certification, which provides opportunities for small businesses owned by disabled veterans to increase their federal contracting and subcontracting, more than 51 percent of a business must be owned by a service-disabled veteran, and the management and daily business operations must be controlled by one or more service disabled veterans. The application process can take several years, and each company must pass a rigorous screening for competence, financial stability and customer satisfaction record.

Land Care is 100 percent owned and managed by Rob Diaz, a 20-year landscape contractor and U.S. Air Force veteran. The company has grown to be listed among southern Nevada's top 10 landscape management companies and has been recognized with numerous local, regional and national industry awards.
