

Redexim Acquires BLEC

Source: www.TurfMagazine.com

 Redexim bv, the parent company of Redexim North America, has reached an agreement to purchase the assets of BLEC Global Ltd of the United Kingdom. The deal includes the purchase of the BLEC name and means that the products will continue to be traded around the world by Redexim under the name of BLEC.

Redexim will now be responsible for the full manufacturing and distribution of the current range of over 80 BLEC machines throughout the world including the United States and Canada. Discussions are currently underway to set up dealer arrangements in the countries within which BLEC operates, and announcements about this will be made in due course.

BLEC, founded in 1986, has developed a good reputation around the world for developing new innovative machinery that is well-engineered, built for long life and reliability. The company offers a wide range of specialised landscaping and turf care machinery, both walk-behind and tractor-mounted models, to suit a varied range of requirements. BLEC products have been used by superintendents, sports turf managers, sod farms and contractors around the world.